

HOSPITAL CONFINEMENT

The costs associated with the hospitalization of you or a loved one can add up fast. In fact, according to the CDC, the average length of a hospital stay is 5 Days, and costs upwards of $30,000 Dollars.

Health insurance plans often fail to cover all the costs and expenses incurred during a hospital stay leaving you to pay anything that isn't covered out of pocket. The good news is, it doesn't have to be this way. A hospital confinement plan can bring peace of mind should you or a family member require a hospital stay.

Hospital confinement plans provide a daily benefit for each day you are hospitalized, the benefit amount is usually fixed and not dependent upon hospital expenses incurred. As with most benefits, there are generally different coverage options available. Some plans may cover short-term stays and limit benefits to a maximum number of days while other plans provide long-term coverage. In either case, the plan, provides a cash benefit paid directly to you, and can help pay for out-of-pocket expenses your health insurance doesn't cover any way you see fit.

Hospital confinement coverage can be a useful tool in helping you keep afloat during a difficult time.
